Addition and Remodel

About the Project

This home now recalls the charm of Swedish red farmhouses combined with Craftsman-style detailing that reflects the warmth and hospitality of the owners. Angelini & Associates Architects collaborated with David Klein Construction and the owners to add new living spaces to this home that are inviting and open, while reorienting the spaces to provide expansive views of the historic oak tree to the east. A Craftsman-style kitchen in quartersawn oak is the new heart of the home. This addition and remodeling is seamless and harmonious – come see if you can tell where the new house begins and the old house ends!
